

I got a notice from my attorney general's office that the Federal Government wants to meddle in our phone privacy policy. I thought "W" ran his campaign to get the Federal government out of our private lives. Along with his Homeland Security "big brother," this seems to me to be another example of just the opposite. Imagine.